Stay Curious. There's more to explore!

Ancient Altars of the Old Testament Era

Solid bronze.

Solomon made one like this when he built the temple (2Ch 4:1).

Ancient Altars

Ancient people made offerings to appease the gods. The Israelites used different types of altars for whole burnt offerings to Yahweh.

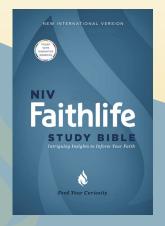

was found at Beersheba.

Unworked stones with a hearthstone slab (Ex 20:25). One like this was discovered at Arad.

Any stone of the right size and shape that was nearby (Jdg 13:19).

A rectangular mound of sod, clay or mud-brick. Yahweh commanded Moses to build this kind (Ex 20:24).

The NIV Faithlife Study Bible, built for curious readers, is full of dynamic graphics like this one in addition to family trees, timelines, charts, and other illustrations.

